STANLEY PROMISES STUDY OF FREMONT TO I STREET ROAD

The Alameda County Planning Commission has been asked by Supervisor Chester E. Stanley to "make a thorough study" of the possibilities of extending I Street in Niles to Fremont Avenue, according to advice from the supervisor to the Niles Chamber of Commerce this week.

The street extension was recommended recently by the Niles Chamber, which expressed the need for better highway communication between Niles and Centerville, in the interest of public safety and convenience.

"However, this is not exactly in keeping with the present policy that the Board has set up for road acceptance and improvement," Supervisor Stanley said.

County Surveyor Wallace B. Boggs was asked by the supervisor to give his opinion of the project. Boggs stated: "This extension would involve a new bridge across the creek and two main line railroad crossings, running into a very considerable expense.

"On the other hand, such an extension would have some advantages when the new freeway is finally extended, providing connecting streets were also widened and improved."

This week the Niles Chamber re-emphasized the need for a connection between Niles and Centerville and laid plans for a long-range program in interesting county officials in the project.

NEW TEACHERS FOR WASHINGTON HIGH

The board of trustees of Washington Union High School announced the appointment of three new teachers this week, and one new custodian.

Miss Ruth M. Walsh of Nipomo, San Jose State College graduate, will succeed Mrs. Lois Nelson, resigned, as girls' physical education teacher.

John Brown, formerly employed at the Newark Foundry, has been employed as the new custodian. He will report for duty Monday and will be in charge of the gymnasium, farm shops and athletic fields, and will serve later as a bus driver.

IRVINGTON C. C. PROTESTS PHONE COMPANY BILLING

The Irvington Chamber of Commerce this week added its voice to the protest made last month by the Niles Chamber of Commerce against the method of billing toll calls by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company. Last week the Centerville Chamber took similar action.

All of these business groups insist that bills by the company list actual telephone numbers called so that customers may be able to verify charges.

No statement in regard to the protests have been made by the telephone company to date.

Directors E. M. Grimmer and Jack Prouty of the Alameda County Water District reported that Hetch-Hetchy water, with which Irvington customers have been served for several weeks, is preferred to well water because the Hetchy water, being softer, is more desirable for household use.

They reported, however, that the majority sentiment of the whole area served by the water district is not in favor of changing to Hetchy water, which would cost water users approximately 25 per cent more than present rates for well water.

President Rowan Henry announced that on July 29 the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Alameda County will meet in Irvington at Vilela's, with the Irvington Chamber serving as hosts.

LOCAL PHYSICIANS' FATHER SUCCUMBS

Funeral services for Dr. John William Buehler, 80, for 40 years a practicing physician in Aromas district, Watsonville, were held Wednesday in Watsonville. Death followed an extended illness.

Dr. Buehler, father of two local physicians, Dr. Lyle Buehler of Niles and Dr. Merle Buehler of Centerville, was one of the last of the early day horse and buggy doctors. A physician of the old school, he carried his interest in his patients far beyond their cure.

He was a native of Crown Point, Indiana, and spent his early life on a ranch near Sioux City, Iowa, where he attended German English College. After a period of school teaching, he attended medical school and was a graduate of Chicago Homeopathic College.

His two sons have followed in his footsteps. He is also survived by his widow, Clara, and three sisters, Mrs. Emma Sproule of Aromas, Mrs. Katherine Lewis of Odebolt, Iowa, and Mrs. Florence Hartley of Battle Creek, Iowa; two brothers, William Buehler of Colton and Ben Buehler of Odebolt, and five grandchildren.

NILES WOMAN FRACTURES SKULL ON VACATION TRIP

Hopes for a pleasant vacation with relatives in Oklahoma were completely dashed last Monday for the John Talley family of Morrison Avenue, Niles, when Mrs. Talley, in getting out of the car after dark on the night of the Fourth, fell in a ditch and suffered a broken collar bone and fractured skull.

The accident occurred in Holdenville, a town in Oklahoma where they had planned to visit relatives.

The family had only arrived in Holdenville that morning, after the trip from Niles. Mrs. Talley, in making the exit from the car, was unable to see the ditch because of darkness. She was taken immediately to the hospital, and will have to remain there until probably Sunday. Even then she will not be able to leave immediately for Niles, and when she does, she will have to come home by train, while her husband and children will motor home in the car.

Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Floyd Dickerson, has gone back to Oklahoma to accompany Mrs. Talley home.

In the meantime, her many friends and relatives here are anxiously awaiting further word of her condition.

Mr. Talley is employed at the Morton Salt Company in Newark and was on vacation at the time.

DECOTO CHAMBER PLANS NEW SCOUT HOUSE SET-UP

The regular monthly meeting of the Decoto Chamber of Commerce was called to order Tuesday night by Gonzales Paniagua, treasurer, in the absence of President Kenneth Garcia. Louis J. Fine, new scoutmaster, gave a report on the new scout building, which formerly was a church on Ninth and H Streets, directly across from the Salz warehouse.

At present the Boy Scouts will use only two rooms in the building, but after repairs they intend using the entire premises. After replacing the windows, screens will be put on to protect the windows. Roland Bendel volunteered his services in getting materials needed for the repairs. A flag pole will be placed in the yard and also an outdoor fireplace for the summer meetings. Scouts will cut trees to be used for fire wood.

The Chamber will donate $15 to be used for repairs of the Scout House. They are willing to donate more if it is needed. There are at least 15 scouts at present but Scoutmaster Fine hopes to increase this number as the age limit is to be lowered to 11 years.

A registered letter will be sent to Supervisor Chester E. Stanley as a follow-up to previous letters in regard to repairing the streets, which are badly in need of repairs. New street signs in black and white lettering will be installed soon by the county. It was urged for the people here to take care of these new signs and if anyone sees any destruction pertaining to the signs, they are asked to report it to the sheriff's office.

Manuel Silva, one of the directors of the Washington Township Hospital District, representative of Decoto and Alvarado, spoke at the meeting on the hospital plan, the necessity of a hospital here and of their efforts to obtain federal and state aid. The hospital district is opposing a merger with Eden Township, which was suggested by the state. Mr. Silva said this was because the need of a hospital right here was too great.

About 25 members attended the meeting, following which coffee and doughnuts were served.

CANNING TO START ON LOCAL COTS; PRICE IS $60-$40

Canning of local apricots will start the first of next week with the run expected to last 15 or 16 days. Growers will get $60 per ton for apricots running 12 to the pound or better, and $45 for those running 13 to 14 to the pound.

The Marlo Packing Company of Decoto started the apricot season, canning valley cots. These were bringing an average of $40 per ton. The township fruit has a higher market value because of better quality, appearance, and sugar content.

Marlo is employing 100 and expects to run apricots for 20 days. Expectation now is to pack about half of last year's tonnage, although this may be increased. Employment is at a lower figure than last year because of installation of new machinery, including a pitting machine.

The F. E. Booth Company, starting next week, will employ around 325 persons in its cot operation at Centerville. This will be a strictly "quality" pack.

Canners state that last year's carryover is rather heavy, and that the public consumption of canned apricots has suffered because of poor quality fruit put up by some canners in the past few years.

The Schukl Company in Niles is now processing maraschino cherries, with 60 persons employed on three shifts. The pack will run at about the same quantity as last year. When freestone peach canning starts in August, about 250 people will be employed at the Niles cannery.

The Booth cannery also will can freestones starting in August, with tomato canning beginning the first of September.

'APPRECIATION NIGHT' FOR OAKLAND BASEBALL CLUB

July 26 has been designated as "Appreciation Night" at the Oakland baseball park by the Alameda County Employees' Association through their U. S. Hospitals Fund Committee.

The event will not be a benefit occasion for them but they are sponsoring a "Pack-the-Park" campaign as an expression of thanks and appreciation to the Oakland Baseball Club for "exceptional courtesies" extended to military hospital convalescents.

TWO LOCAL WOMEN WIN FAIR PRIZES

Mrs. Anna A. Rose of Niles was first-place winner in the dining room linen class in the home economics exhibits at the Alameda County Fair.

Mrs. Mary P. Amaral, also of Niles, won second place in the bedroom linen class.

The township was shocked this week to learn of the sudden death of Father James J. McLaughlin, 49, pastor of St. Edward's Church in Newark and St. Anne's Church at Alvarado. He succumbed to a heart attack at the home of friends in Oakland last Wednesday.

Born in County Limerick, Ireland, he received his early education in Ireland and came to the United States in 1920 to study at St. Bernard's at Rochester, New York. He was ordained there on June 9, 1923, and came to the San Francisco archdiocese where he served as assistant pastor of many bay area churches. He had been in Newark since 1941.

Son of the late Patrick and Johanna McLaughlin, he leaves no known survivors.

His body was brought to the Newark church Thursday where it lay in state until after the funeral mass.

This morning's solemn requiem mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m., with Bishop Hugh Donohue presiding at the mass. Interment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery at Colma.

TWO BOY SCOUTS OF CENTERVILLE WIN CAMP AWARDS

Several Centerville Boy Scouts had the time of their lives at Diamond-O camp in the high Sierras last week.

Returning last Sunday after seven days of camping, they came home full of enthusiasm for Diamond-O. Two of the boys, Leonard Brown and Philip Bateria, were such excellent campers that they were awarded the coveted Order of the Arrow. And all of the boys received a special tribute from Scout Executive Don MacDougal for their splendid camping program.

Hikes, swimming, and a visit to Hetch-Hetchy were among the activities the boys enjoyed during the week. These activities were in addition to the campfire program which was highlighted one evening by the singing of a Centerville Scout, Philip Bateria.

Accompanying the Scouts were Scoutmaster Orion Dunbar, Assistant Scoutmaster Alden Christensen, and Junior Assistant Jack Ferraris.

Transportation to the camp was graciously furnished by George Silveira, who used his company truck for the occasion.

Scouts who went on the trip included Milton Rose, Leonard Brown, Philip Bateria, Ernie Davi, James Bettencourt, Richard Syvestri, Frank Senn, Leo Gonsalves, Richard Silveira, Lee Facey, Herman Bettencourt, Russell Hayes, Norman Coit and Baron Holland.

A BIG WEEK-END

Your reporter and family took a jaunt to Sebastopol Sunday to visit with the Manuel Katens of that city.

While there we took in all the sights of the Russian River and found it much improved and, as always, a beautiful spot. Upon our arrival at the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry docks, we were very much let down because the ferries were not making their usual trips across the bay due to a strike. We returned home that same day by way of San Francisco, arriving home at 9:30 p.m.

On Monday we spent a very safe and glorious Fourth in our own back yard. A barbecue dinner was the main attraction. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. David Smith and son David, all of Mountain View. On the evening of that same day we took in the Alameda County Fair at Pleasanton. I can truthfully say that this fair is the most beautiful that Alameda County has ever had.

SPORTSIRVINGTON BALL TEAM TAKES TWO FROM CLEAR LAKE

The Irvington Merchants ball team came home from Clear Lake Monday with two more decisive wins to their credit. Frank May-er's boys and their families—and a good part of the population of Washington Township—made it a Baseball Fourth at Clear Lake Highlands, and a thoroughly enjoyable holiday.

In the first game, played Sunday, the Merchants took an easy win, 11-3, with 15 hits. Hank and Tony Dutra both hit 2-baggers in the fifth, and Buddy Marshall got another in the seventh. Then Teddy Garcia connected for three bases in the eighth. The game was Irvington's from the start.

Monday's game, which the locals took 10-6, was a little harder. Irvington trailed until the seventh. Then Johnny Garcia hit a homer to tie the score 5-5. Stanley Roderick followed with a single. He came in on a homer by Teddy Garcia. Irvington scored in both the following innings and were never headed.

In the fourth, Adams relieved the strain on Irvington, behind 2-1, by a homer which brought in two other runs. But then Clear Lake made three in the same inning, staying ahead. It was the seventh that told the story.

Hereafter, the Irvington Merchants will look better than ever: the team has a complete new outfit of uniforms bought for them by their sponsoring Irvington business men.

BASS FISHING GOOD

Smallmouth bass fishing has been good during the past week along the lower parts of the West Branch of the Feather River, the Middle Fork of the Feather River, and the Feather River around Oroville in Butte County.

RIVER FISHING IS SUBJECT OF STUDY

Assigned to the quest for more information to provide more fishing, the research vessel "Striper" was commissioned last month by the Division of Fish and Game for duty in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta and Bay areas.

The 28-foot custom-built boat will be used for angler surveys, tagging salmon and striped bass, pollution control, and general research in inland waters. Another future assignment will be salmon tagging off the Golden Gate.

Sport anglers and commercial fishermen alike are expected to benefit from the varied activities of the vessel, which is equipped to net and tag any of the score of species of fish found in river and delta waters.

At a cost of $7,000, the "Striper" was constructed for the Bureau of Marine Fisheries and Fish Conservation. It is the only boat in California with Fraser River type control and net operation features.

One man can operate the craft by means of three complete control stations and the automatic net return mechanism. Capacity of the drum storage spool is nearly 1200 feet of net.

With an 8-foot beam, the vessel draws three feet of water, and is equipped with a self-bailing cockpit. It is powered with a 110-horsepower engine. Sleeping facilities are available for three crew members.

SALMON ANGLERS HAVE LUCK

Salmon anglers have been enjoying some first-rate sport recently in and near Humboldt Bay in Humboldt County. While they have taken numerous fair sized fish inside the bay and between the jetties, they have been taking some very large fish just outside the entrance near the Whistling Buoy.

TROUT ANGLERS TAKE LIMITS

Trout anglers have taken many limits lately on Nelson Creek and along the Middle Fork of the Feather River in Plumas County. Their luck has been only fair on Bucks Lake in this same area.

TROUT FISHING GOOD

Trout fishing on the lakes in the Marble Mountains of Siskiyou County has been good during the past few days.

Baby birds often eat more than their own weight in food daily.

FARM LABOR INFORMATION

By L. R. BRADLEY

Manager Hayward Office

The number of seasonal farm jobs in California fell off again last week as late spring cultivation was completed in many sections and summer harvests were held back by cool weather. The number of persons seeking farm jobs increased more rapidly than the falling off in employment would indicate because of new job seekers coming into the farm labor market. Migrants from other parts of the state and from other states are continuing to enter the sections where farm activities are expected to start soon and more local workers, particularly women and vacationing students, are looking for farm work.

Light purchases of cannery buyers suggest that employment in these processing plants may be lower than usual this year, causing many former cannery workers to apply for farm jobs. Dry yards and dehydrator work is expected to be more active than usual, however, and to provide work for many of these former processing workers.

In the central and north coast counties, all areas report that current activities are well manned and labor surpluses exist. The cherry harvest is almost complete and the Alameda County apricot crop is about ready to start as this report goes to press. Field crop operations are progressing.

The apricot harvest is about 95 per cent complete in the Winters area of Solano County and is under way in the Fairfield area. There is a surplus of workers in the county and job seekers are advised not to come in. In Alameda County and Contra Costa County the apricot harvest will start the last of this week. There are enough workers on hand to start picking, but 1,000 more are expected to be needed by July 11 when this operation reaches its peak. In Santa Clara County, the 'cots are ripening fast. Canneries are offering lower prices for apricots in this county than last year which means that a large portion of the crop will be dried. There are more family groups in the county looking for work than can be used at this time. In Santa Cruz, San Benito and Monterey Counties, this harvest will start about the first of next week.

ALAMEDA COUNTY DAY SET FOR STATE FAIR

Friday, September 2, has been designated Alameda County Day at the 1949 California State Fair at Sacramento, according to word received by the Board of Supervisors from W. W. Wright, fair president.

Following a luncheon, the Alameda County officials and others will attend the races and remain for the night show at the State Fair.

ARTIFICIAL DAIRY BREEDING MEET SET

Artificial breeding of dairy cows will soon be available to Alameda County dairymen, according to William Johnson, assistant farm advisor, if the dairymen want to make use of this method of breeding their cows.

A meeting to demonstrate the artificial breeding of dairy cattle will be held at Ed Orloff's dairy at Black Avenue and Santa Rita Road, Pleasanton, on Tuesday, July 12, at 10:30 a.m.

Dee Barnes, technician from the Santa Clara County Dairy Breeders Association, will be present to give a demonstration of breeding a cow artificially. M. S. Berkeley, assistant farm advisor from Santa Clara County, will be present to answer any questions about signing up cows in the association.

All dairymen are urged to attend.

OLIVE AVENUE WILL BE IMPROVED

Olive Avenue, between Irvington and Mission San Jose, connecting with Palm Avenue and Mission Road, has been accepted by the county as a primary 50-foot road, according to R. J. Wright, chairman of the Alameda County Planning Commission. The action was taken at this month's meeting of the commission.

The road will be widened and oil-surfaced, according to Wright. The commission's decision was in response to a petition by residents of the area.

CONTINUE CHEST, CHAMBER SAYS

Recommendation that the Washington Township Community Chest continue as the fund raising agency for organizations which otherwise would have to put on individual campaigns was voted this week by the Centerville Chamber of Commerce.

The recommendation was made in compliance with a request by

Among organizations receiving Chest funds are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Salvation Army. Officers of the Chest have expressed uncertainty regarding public interest in the Chest and are making an effort to determine the advisability of its continuance.

AWARDED THE FASHION ACADEMY GOLD MEDAL AS THE "FASHION CAR OF THE YEAR"

Family Barbecue Party

The Lorin Mohn back yard in Niles was the setting for a gala Fourth of July family barbecue party that featured, not hot dogs or hamburgers, but roast turkey! The hot dogs and hamburgers got their innings later in the day, however, for the guests stayed on for a supper which climaxed a most delightful day.

Those who were present included Mr. and Mrs. Sam Anderson, Jess Persons and daughter, Leona, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mohn and son Bud, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mohn and son Michael, the Lee Facey family, Jack and Nell Myers, Bill Myers and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pierce.

At Clear Lake

Motoring up to Clear Lake last week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chapman of Newark. They were accompanied by Philip Faria and Joe Martin. The motivation for the trip was the baseball game between the Irvington boys and the team from Clear Lake Highlands. The localites were naturally jubilant as the Irvington lads came out the winners.

Newark Families At Santa Cruz

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gunn of Newark, their son and daughter, and their house guests, Mrs. Retta Wilson and Mrs. Daisy Mohler of Olympia, Washington, spent the Fourth of July on the beach at Santa Cruz. They had a "wonderful day" in spite of the very, very crowded beach. Accompanying them was the Henry Lewis family, also of Newark.

New Residents

New residents of Niles are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Williams and their two children, formerly of Oakland. They have moved into their new home adjoining the property of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, on the Niles-Hayward highway.

At Yosemite

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Adams of Irvington have returned home after an eight-day jaunt up to Yosemite and Tuolumne Meadows.

Stork Shower for Mrs. Gus Robertson

Over thirty guests were present at the recent stork shower and garden party given for Mrs. Gus Robertson at the Raymond Benbow home in Irvington, with Mrs. Francis Turnbow and Mrs. Irma Belding acting as co-hostesses.

The garden presented a gala scene, with card tables decorated in the proverbial pink and white, with the main table featuring a pink and white umbrella.

The highlight of the afternoon came when Mrs. Robertson and her two daughters, Jeanette and Lea, opened the many lovely and useful gifts overflowing a chest of drawers designed especially for baby.

Sandwiches, salads, cakes, and coffee comprised the refreshments.

At Tahoe

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hirsch of Irvington joined the throngs at Lake Tahoe over the Fourth of July week-end.

SUNDAY NUPTIALS AT CORPUS CHRISTI UNITE DECOTO GIRL, WARM SPRINGS MAN

Last Sunday at the 8:30 a.m. mass at the Corpus Christi Church in Niles, Delia Zendejas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Zendejas of Decoto, became the bride of Manuel Galvan of Warm Springs.

At the double ring ceremony Delia was escorted down the aisle by her father and was in a pearl white satin gown, styled with an off-the-shoulder effect with white net neckline. The bodice of the gown was lace trimmed, as was the train of the dress and the fingertip veil. The veil was held with a sweetheart crown of orange blossoms.

The reception was held at the Newark Pavilion at 8 p.m. with Phillip Ayala and his orchestra playing. About 250 guests attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Garciduenas of Alvarado were best man and matron of honor. She was in a turquoise gown with a matching picture hat. Paula Galvan, sister of the groom, Alicia Martinez of Niles and Tomasa Saucedo of Decoto all wore yellow gowns.

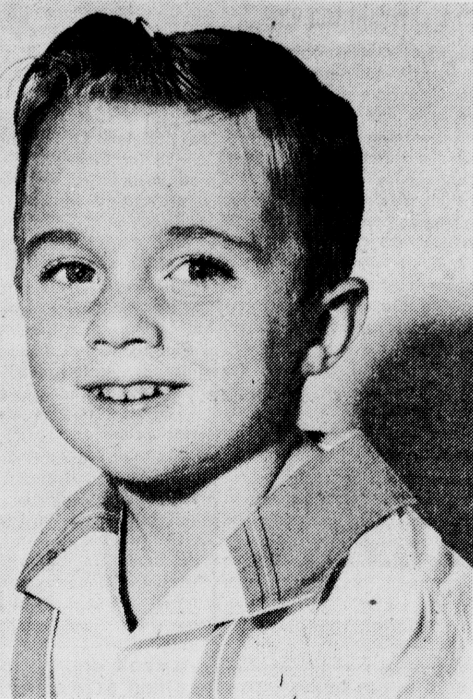

Carolina Galvan, another sister of the groom, was in light green and Emma Martinez was in pink. All wore matching picture hats. Ushers were Gilbert Orozco of Decoto, Albert Durazo of Warm Springs, Salvador Galvan, brother of the groom of Warm Springs, Antonio Zendejas Jr., the bride's brother of Decoto, Victor Hernandez of Irvington, and Jose Galvan, another brother of the groom from Warm Springs.

The couple will reside in Ashland. The benedict is employed at the Dodge plant in San Leandro.

To Seattle

Mr. and Mrs. James Williams of Niles are making plans to leave the end of next week for Seattle, Washington, where they will visit her sister. While there, they expect to meet the Leon Orcutt, also of Niles, who are presently at Yellowstone, after an extensive tour of the east coast.

THE YOUNGER SET

This bright-eyed young lad is Bruce Alan MacGregor, son of school principal (of Newark) Jack and Mrs. MacGregor.

Bruce was born in Tucson, Arizona, during the war when his daddy was stationed at the Marana air base. But in spite of being a native son of Arizona, he shows preference for his adopted state, possibly because most of his relatives live here.

Among the latter are his two aunts, Mrs. Emma Murray and Mrs. Margaret White, who live in Niles. Bruce loves to visit them as their home is situated where he can get an unobstructed view of the passing trains. And if there's anything that Bruce loves, it's trains! He is completely enchanted by trains, whether they are the miniature toy trains, or the big California Zephyrs.

He has been thoroughly inoculated with his passion for trains, of course, by his maternal grandfather, who is a railroad man in Sacramento.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gleason of Sacramento, and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. MacGregor of San Jose.

Four Generations At Christening

Last Sunday, Carol Ann, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin King of Canyon Heights, Niles, was christened at St. Joseph's Church in Mission San Jose by Father Reardon. The happy godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Costa of Irvington.

After the christening a delicious dinner was served at the godparents home, at which Carol Ann's great-grandmother, Mrs. Mary Moura, was present. Carol Ann's grandmother, Mrs. Mary King; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin King and son Donnie, and Mrs. Emily Miller of San Jose, a friend of the family's, were guests.

Return from North

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Lucas of Niles arrived home from a two weeks' vacation in the northwest with nothing but praise for the beauties of that area. They took in the sights along the Columbia River (including Bonneville Dam), the cities of Portland and Seattle, a boat trip over to Victoria, and many other delightful and interesting excursions. They had such a wonderful trip, in fact, that Mr. Lucas hopes to make another trip up that way again in the not too distant future, to see the things they hadn't time for this time, including Lake Louise and Banff.

New Activities

Richard Belding of Irvington is finding that working in a logging camp in Oregon is a lot harder on the muscles than pushing a pen around at his studies at San Jose State. However, he is enjoying the novel experience, and also his stay with relatives at Roseburg. He will enter his junior year at State in the fall.

His sister, Marilyn, is also engaged in an entirely new activity—for her. She is working at the Modern Creamery in San Jose. She, too, plans to study at San Jose State in the fall.

In the Northwest

Mr. and Mrs. John Brahmst and son, Bob, returned home from a two and a half weeks' vacation that took them up north as far as Vancouver, B. C. and Victoria, and as far south as Los Angeles. Enroute, they stopped off at Spokane to attend the Howard Alves-Lola Anderson wedding.

Move to Oakland

Friends of former Niles residents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Klinkle, will be glad to know that they are now living within "calling" distance. They have sold their home in Grass Valley and are living in Oakland. The Klinkles lived in Niles for many years.

Holiday at Yosemite

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dias and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Solon of Niles went to Yosemite over the Fourth of July week-end. While in the Sierras they stopped in at Diamond-O Boy Scout camp to see the Dias' son, Clifford.

LOCAL COUPLE HONEYMOONING IN SOUTH; WILL MAKE THEIR HOME IN SAN JOSE

The Holy Ghost Church in Centerville was the setting for the impressive ceremony at a 7:30 a.m. mass on Wednesday, June 29, that united in marriage Miss Florence Gonsalves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reg Gonsalves, and Mr. William Diangson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Diangson of Alvarado. The Rev. O'Connor performed the double ring rites.

Melon-colored gladiolas and white tapers were very effectively used in the decor of the church.

For her wedding costume the attractive bride chose a white sport suit, with navy blue accessories, and carried an orchid and a white prayer book.

The maid of honor, Miss Marie Gonsalves, the bride's sister, was in a pink bolero suit, with black accessories. Her corsage was of baby orchids.

GERALDINE SHARP AND FRANK SCAMMAN SAY THEIR 'I DO'S' AT HOME WEDDING

A simple wedding, performed Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sharp of Driscoll Road, united Geraldine Sharp and Frank Scamman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Scamman of Irvington.

A bay window, banked with arrangements of pink and white gladiolas, served as the improvised altar against which the couple repeated their marriage vows, with the Rev. John Peppers of Newark performing the rites.

Standing up with the couple as attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kearley (Virginia Scamman).

The bride was charming in a light blue silk traveling suit, wearing an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Kearley was in a pink shantung.

After the ceremony the just-weds greeted about 40 guests, members of the two families, at a reception held at the Sharp home.

Week-End Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Smith and Mrs. Ruth Wylie of San Jose were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Cull of J Street, Niles.

RECEPTION HERE SUNDAY FOR HOWARD ALVES AND BRIDE, MARRIED IN SPOKANE

A reception this Sunday at the Veterans Memorial Building in Niles will welcome home honeymooners Howard "Buddy" Alves and his bride, the former Lola Anderson, who were married June 25 at Spokane, Washington.

Several localites went north to attend the wedding of the pair, who are expected home today or tomorrow from a honeymoon that took them to Priest Lake, Idaho. Among those from here to attend the wedding, which was held at St. Aloysius Church in Spokane, were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Alves, Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Plummer (Marjorie Brunelli), Mr. and Mrs. John Brahmst and son, Bob, and Mr. Frank McGowan.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. Clyde Anderson, wore a white satin gown that was made by Mrs. Alves. It was fashioned with an off-shoulder effect, princess style, with long train. She carried a bouquet of off-white roses and carnations, with an orchid center.

Return to New York

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hoxie and son, Norman, who have lived in Irvington for over six months, have returned to their home in Rome, New York. Mrs. Hoxie is the sister of Mrs. Esben Jensen of Los Eatos Farms in Irvington.

At Wright's Lake

Three local families—the John Whipples, the Ted Logans and the Ted Harveys—returned last Sunday from a relaxing and very pleasant 10-day vacation at Wright's Lake, in the Sierras.

Say you saw it in The Register.

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Doris Kilgore, wore an aquamarine gown of moire taffeta, and a headpiece fashioned with carnations. The bridesmaid, Peggy Hadger, was similarly gowned, but her gown was of yellow.

Little Harriet Brown, the bridegroom's niece, was in pink taffeta, carrying an old-fashioned bouquet.

Ruel Brown, the groom's brother-in-law, did best man honors, and the usher was Joe Himmelsback.

The couple will make their home in Alameda following their return from their honeymoon.

MISSION SAN JOSE NEWS

By LOIS BOTTENBERG

TO LAKE TAHOE

The Joe Reis family and the Frank Albert family all motored to Lake Tahoe over the week-end. At Placerville they ran into Mr. and Mrs. Walter Catalano, the former Alice Reis.

Lois Bottenberg While at the lake they motored to Carson City, Reno, Virginia City and other points of interest. The Reis returned home on Tuesday but Frank and his gang stayed over for a while.

READY FOR THE SEASON
Returning home after a successful fishing trip to Camp Connell, Rick Meyers, Sonny Hernandez, Lester Semas and Cappy Cunha are brown as berries and ready to begin the grind of the apricot season. Connell has been their vacation ground for many years as Aunt Dora Connell is the owner of it. She is a sister-in-law to Mrs. Mayer.

VACATIONING
Miss Marianna Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore of Piedmont, is vacationing at Camp Augusta, near Nevada City, California. The Moores and the Daubs have moved out to the ranch on Mission Peak for the summer.

IN SUNNYVALE
Miss Dorothy Rodrigues, daughter of George and Mary, spent a week in Sunnyvale with her cousins, Rose Marie and Billie Amaral. She was brought home this week-end by the Amarals who spent an enjoyable time here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence, and the Rodrigueses.

BIRTHDAY WISHES
Thursday evening at the Meyers home, Frank Vieth of Alma observed his birthday with several friends in to wish him well. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chambers, Weezer Fernandez, Bob Baker, Elsie Soito, Don Meyers, the Bottenbergs, Evelyn Meyers and Grace.

LOTS OF PICNICS
Three picnics at Linda Vista Park marked the three-day vacation period. Saturday, Westvaco of Newark had their annual shindig. Sunday, the Moose Lodges (and boy you should see the Moosees, hundreds of them), and on Monday Alameda Safeway Stores enjoyed a cool day for sure. SURPRISE!
Last Wednesday evening friends

"sneaked" into the home of Mary Rodrigues and sat noisily in the dark while they waited for George to bring her home. It seemed that hours passed and finally, after Mary got tired of looking at former old high school pictures at the home of Frank Dias, she came home and was greeted with "Surprise" from twenty or more gals who had assembled to give her a house warming on the new improvements to her home. But what was their surprise when they learned that it was also Mary's eleventh anniversary, so it turned out to be a two-way affair, for George walked in with a large white cake with "Happy Anniversary, Honey" on it. Games of all kinds were enjoyed and many good laughs were had by all at some of the strange antics of some of the guests. Several delicious cakes were eaten along with coffee. Mary was presented with a Hamilton Beach mixer and an aluminum roaster.

Those who enjoyed this very delightful evening were: Teenie Albert, Roe Garcia, Florence Thompson, Emma Marshall, Lena Solon, Hortense Cunha, Irma Vargas, Hortense Andrade, Sally Souza, Margie Reis, Jay Souza, Margaret Phillips, Lois Bottenberg, Fern Overacker, Nora Perreira, Winifred Fernandez, Freida Frei, Tommie Spalding, and Rose Rogers. Hazel Millard and Betty Andrade were unable to attend.

OFF TO ORINDA
Teddy and Jack Pereira just simply "took off" and with friends went to Orinda where they had a swell dinner at the El Nido Club and later attended the Pleasanton Fair.

NEW RESIDENTS
New folks in the Mission are the Halls who are building a home on the hillside above the Stuart Fletcher home; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pettes and son Ronnie, and daughter Doris, from Pennsylvania, who are living on the Castro Ranch, and the kiddies will attend our school this fall; and Mrs. Dorothy Lyon and family who are making their home at the Thompson place on Ellsworth Street.

EVENTFUL DAYS
Bud and Colleen Justus and daughter Cynthia Gail of El Cerrito have been spending a two weeks' vacation here at the Mission with his folks, at Niles with her folks, the Bill Jibsons; at Lake Tahoe with Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Kamp and daughters, Viki and Teri (Bud's sister Elaine); at Burlingame with the Tom Santos family (Bud's other sister Ruth); and a short trip to Carmel and the drive for a day. They return home this week-end so he can resume his tool and die work at Marchant Calculating Company in Oakland. By the way, Harley Bert (Bud) Justus has completed his apprenticeship and received his diploma as a journeyman tool and die maker at exercises held in the Oakland Auditorium at which Governor Earl Warren handed out the diplomas.

LOTS OF FUN
City folks coming from the southland to have a grand week-end on the ranch and become regular dude ranchers were Beverly and Charles Lucero and Evelyn and "Scotty" Scott, all of Glendale, who came to the Mission Hereford Ranch as house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thompson and son, Tompy. They were all pals when the Thompsons lived in the south. On Sunday evening several couples came to the ranch to partake of a wonderful outdoor feed and later they went over to the Overacker barn where they all enjoyed the folk and square dancing.

Guests were Mary and Art Abbot and son Johnnie, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chadbourne, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Overacker and family, Becky, Patsy, Leah and Mike III; Roe Garcia and Don Hayes, Lois and Glenn Bottenberg, the guests, Scotty, Evelyn, Beverly and Charles, and the swell host and hostess, Larry and Florence and son.

SEEING THE SIGHTS
Herman Medeiros and Beverly took off one day last week and made the rounds of the countryside. It being Herman's birthday, they motored to Santa Cruz and up the ocean and across to Burlingame where they spent the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kolmoos. Both of them being laid up with the mumps, Bev and Herm brought Linda, their daughter, home with them.

TRUE!
Comments heard around the township and not from natives of the Mission: "Boy, the sesquicentennial pageant at Mission beat the Pleasanton Cavalcade forty ways for Sunday!"

ANNIVERSARIES
Two anniversaries came to my attention this week. Only five years on their road to the fifty mark was observed by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lowe of Ellsworth street on July 3, but thirty-five years of ups and downs (mostly up) for Rose and Roscoe Whiteside on the 4th of July is really rolling them around toward the golden one. Here's hoping. Also Mike Sullivan observed his birthday on Independence Day.

DID IT AGAIN!
Mission San Jose always comes through with something or someone first class every once in a while, and they "done it again" for the drill team of our town carried off first place honors at the Pleasanton Fair this year.

WHOSE?
Paul Aust is sporting a new green sedan, but I thought I saw Washington licenses on it. Is it Paul's, or does it belong to sister Florence Scott of Seattle who is visiting at the family home here?

TO SACRAMENTO
Evelyn Meyer went to Sacramento over the holiday to visit her aunt, Dora Connell and family. Also hear that mom went up that way also, but can get no details.

QUEEN CONTEST
On September 10 and 11, the Supreme Council of the I.D.E.S. will begin a five-day celebration here in the Mission which will end at a grand reunion of all the councils at the Oakland Auditorium. Mission San Jose is Council No. 1 and they have selected as their queen contestant Miss Shirley Ann Cunha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Cunha of this town.

Shirley is a native of the Mission and a graduate of the grammar school. She will enter Washington Union High School this fall. She is the only one in our township running and it is hoped that she can draw enough votes to become the representative of Council No. 1. Those who are interested in making a home town girl the queen of the affair can get tickets from her folks here in town.

LEAVES FOR IDAHO
Loren Mohn of Niles left last Wednesday on a business trip to Pocatello, Idaho, to be gone for three weeks. He made the trip by plane.

The Liberty Bell was cracked while tolling a knell for Chief Justice John Marshall in 1835.

A WONDERFUL DAY
A picnic was held at the American Legion Park in Stockton Sunday where old fashioned games and fire works were enjoyed. On Monday a two-hour street parade, the largest in the history of Stockton, concluded with dancing in the evening at Dave Janeiro's home, the host. All those fortunate enough to attend were: Dorothy Boruff of Niles, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Janeiro, Mrs. Joseph Travis, Mrs. Edith Dias and son, all of Decoto; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miranda and family of Mt. View; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rose and daughter of Niles; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Janeiro, Mr. Bob Patrick, of Palo Alto; Mrs. Rose Moniz of San Jose; Mr. Fred Janeiro, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Barron, Mr. and Mrs. Joe White and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lucchesi, all of Stockton; and Mr. Frank Woods of Lodi. All these folks spent the two-day holiday at the Janeiro home in Stockton.

BETTER LUCK!
Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fine and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cordova and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Peixotto and family spent last Sunday near Tracy fishing. The only catch, however, at the end of the day amounted to a few catfish. Better luck next time, folks.

AT LAKE MERRITT
Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin and family had a picnic lunch at Lake Merritt Monday and enjoyed the speedboat races. Later they attended the Thrill Circus and the display of fireworks at the Oakland Stadium in San Leandro.

MARLO LOSES
The Marlo Packing softball team lost to Kraftite of Niles on Thursday, June 30, by the score of 3 to 2. Marlo was leading all the way, but lost in the last inning when the infield and outfield misjudged a fly ball.

Watch Out for Peddlers

We've all heard stories, of course, about traveling salesmen. And from now on we're going to hear more of them as dollars become harder to get. But don't take us wrong.

We're talking about the shady deal. Right now in the rural area of Alameda County we are open to the persuasions of anyone who peddles anything. It may be a set of encyclopedias, or furniture, or a siding job on your house, or silverware, or a patio, that you'll be gypped on.

All we can say is that bureaus of Better Business all over the country, now more than ever, are warning people to watch out who they buy from and what they buy from doorbell-ringers.

Of course there is no sure protection of the public against smooth-talking itinerant salesmen who have selected you as a very special prospect for a very special bargain. If you're not careful you'll get gypped.

However, our county, in Ordinances 4 and 7, does have the machinery for licensing itinerant peddlers. But the ordinances are very, very old. The license fees are so small that they are not restrictive. For a fee of $15 you can now peddle most anything in rural Alameda County.

This very problem last week was the subject of a discussion at the Niles Chamber of Commerce, which is suggesting that the Board of Supervisors revise the ordinances to give better protection to the public.

We feel certain that our supervisors will realize that revision is necessary and that they will take proper action.

However, no amount of legal protection can be a guaranty against the glib traveling salesman. Remember: no one is giving you anything; you have to pay. Be sure that you don't pay too much!

Has the Need Passed?

According to a recent survey announced by the Federal Housing Administration, building contractors the nation over are entering the low-price housing field in increasing numbers. The market for expensive architectural show places has been saturated, the report showed, and virtually all homes now being built are in the moderate and lower cost brackets.

Most builders cooperating with the FHA survey reported, too, that shortages of materials no longer plague the industry. And construction time has been reduced in the past year from an average of nearly five months per home to four months.

All the signs indicate that supply is fast catching up with demand for housing—that the home market is becoming more and more a buyer's one. That being so, Congress' action in passing a 16-billion-dollar public housing bill seems peculiarly ill-timed.

If such a program was ever advisable, four years ago was the time for it, when returning veterans were finding Operation Househunting a dismal experience—not now, when the housing shortage is finally being alleviated.

The natural decline in the market for homes means a substantial loss to hundreds of thousands of veterans and others who have bought at high prices since the end of the war. A still more drastic decline, forced by the artificial competition of socialized building, seems less than fair. And in addition, home owners will be in the position of subsidizing, through their taxes, a good share of the cost of government-built homes for people who were unwilling to make the same personal sacrifices they did.

If the need for large-scale building of low-cost homes ever warranted the government's entrance in the field, that need seems definitely to have passed.

DINING OUT—EN FAMILLE

Now, Johnny, you really don't need a menu, dear. Mother knows best what you should have. . . . No, you're NOT going to have a Filet Mignon. . . . Why? Well—you don't need all that steak. It's too much for you. . . . I don't care if you ARE hungry. You can't have a Filet Mignon. . . . Now, look, let's go down the list further. Now here is some nice filet of sole. That would be good, wouldn't it? . . . Johnny! Stop talking so loud! It ISN'T because it's cheaper! Shh, the waitress will hear you. . . . Oh, all right, then, we'll compromise on roast lamb. How much—er—I mean, where do you see it on the menu? . . . Johnny, will you please stop stuffing your mouth full of sugar cubes? . . . I don't care if they ARE free! And for heaven's sake, keep your feet out of the aisle! If you even LOOK at a waitress as though you'd like to trip her, you won't get any pie for dessert. . . . Johnny, dear, please listen to the waitress. She's asking you if you'd like milk to drink. . . . JOHNNY! How CAN you! Why, you know you NEVER drink beer at home. What will the waitress think! Oh dear! . . . Johnny, please leave that check alone. It belongs to your father. . . . No, you DON'T have to know how much it is. . . . Why not? Well—er—it just isn't nice to look at the check. . . . Don't ask me why! I don't KNOW! . . . Come on, let's get out of here. . . . JOHNNY! Put that quarter back on the table! . . . Of course your father didn't forget it. It's for the waitress. . . . Your father is NOT a cheap skate! How can you say such a thing. . . . And, my goodness! put down those tooth picks! . . . I don't care if they ARE mint-flavored. You can have only one. . . .

Let's get OUT of here!

ANNUAL REPORT

I will make my annual report on the Alameda County Fair: The "pronto pups" or "fritter pups" (as they are called this year) were far superior to those of last year, inasmuch as they were machine dipped this year.

IT'S TRUE! And speaking of food, which is always a fascinating subject, let me warn you gals with the excess poundage that the sum of all this

- 1 cup bouillon
 - 1 slice lean roast beef
 - 1 slice bread and butter
 - 1 cucumber and tomato salad
 - 1 slice large orange
 - 1 glass buttermilk
- equals in calories 1 PIECE OF APPLE PIE!

emphasis is on canned and frozen food, prepared puddings, soup powders, and similar shortcuts.

The farmer is concerned with quantity and quality production which calls for superior management. He expects changes and prepared to meet them.

Farm mechanization helps to answer his needs. It enables him to produce one average acre of wheat in three man-hours, while 50 man-hours were needed a century ago. It enables workers to produce as much corn in five minutes as they produced in one and a half hours 80 years ago.

To perform these miracles, co-operation among farmer, engineer, and industrialist is required, Professor Walker said. The agricultural engineer is the middle-man who interprets the engineering needs of the farmer and translates them into specifications which enable the industrialist to supply the machines, structures, electrical equipment, and chemicals directly to the farmer.

John Adams, second president of the United States, was the lawyer for the defense of the British soldiers arrested after the Boston Massacre, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Sell it with a Register Want Ad!

... 20 YEARS AGO ...

It's the truth! There were TWO dentists in Niles back in 1929. Both of them—Dr. Guy Riley and Dr. R. H. Bennett—maintained offices in the Ellsworth Building.

The big news of the first week of July was the announcement that the contract for the new American Legion Memorial Building had been let. The bid was $47,800. Editor Norman Parks of The Register lauded the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shinn in donating the 100 by 150-foot lot for the building.

The big wedding of the week was that of Miss Marie Louise Rose and Anthony J. Oliveira. The bride had formerly been employed at what was then the Bank of Italy in Centerville. Her husband was from San Leandro.

And the HEAT was referred to several times in the editorial columns of The Register. The old-timers complained that it was the longest hot spell they had ever experienced.

Joe Ferry's ad gives a slant on the hair styles of the day. It read: THE MINT BARBER SHOP Shingling - Bobbing Children's Haircutting 35c.

And if you think haircuts were inexpensive then, read the following ad:

PRIME STEER BEEF RUMP ROAST, 25 cents a lb. at the QUALITY MARKET

As for the social whirl, an item said that "plans are being made for a happy reunion of Washington Township friends for next Sunday at Blue Lakes Resort in Lake County."

Those who were planning to enjoy the get-together were listed as: the Milton Wilders, Mrs. Oscar Walpert, Mr. and Mrs. Les Duffey and daughter Patsy, the Robert Blacows, Neil Lake of San Leandro, Mrs. Nona Faber, formerly of Niles, Warren Catterlin, Mrs. Duffey's brother, and Miss Betty Heatherington of San Francisco. Also expected to motor up were Mrs. Gertrude Trask and daughter, Robin.

And Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Rose of Niles had taken off on a two months junket into the northwest and as far east as Yellowstone and Salt Lake.

Another vacationist was Eph Musick, principal of the Newark Elementary School, who had gone off to Del Norte County for a rest.

And in the sports world, Helen Willis, former Centerville girl, had again won the championship tennis matches at Wimbledon by defeating Helen Jacobs.

And what do you think the farmers were worried about? You guessed it! . . . the decreasing rainfall. Whereas the rainfall had been 20.13 inches the previous year, it was only 17.90 for the fiscal year ending June 30.

They REALLY would have been worried had they been able to look into the crystal ball to see that 20 years hence, in 1949, the rainfall would be only 13.07 for the fiscal year ending in June!

Say you saw it in The Register.

How 'safety-circle' driving cuts down accidents

"Know your safety-circle!" is an important lesson taught Standard of California drivers...and perhaps it can be helpful to you.

Your safety-circle is the distance you need to meet an emergency situation—a car stopping suddenly ahead, for example. Our drivers get a special test which tells them exactly how fast they react, but in general, it takes the average person a full second to see a hazard, think what to do and act. So, driving on a clear road, at 30 miles an hour, you should stay at least 7 car lengths behind the car ahead; when you drive 45 miles an hour, stay behind 13 car lengths.

More than 5,000 Standard drivers have studied this and many other safety principles in our Driver Training Program, besides passing thorough visual examinations. Last year, they drove 41 million miles with an accident rate 60% lower than the national trucking fleet average.

By ELAINE HOWE

This is hammock-swinging weather, even though hammocks are somewhat out of style now. Just think—a pitcher of lemonade, a good novel in hand—who cares how hot it gets?

Pearl Buck has written a baker's dozen stories of China, and is responsible for much of what Americans know about Chinese life. Her latest book, "Kinfolk," concerns the family of a Chinese professor, living and lecturing in New York. The China that he has told his children so much about impels them to go and serve their country as their training fits them. How each turns according to his nature makes up the story—a sympathetic and human one.

Hugh McLennan is a promising young writer who has just given us "The Precipice." It shows a sensitive Canadian girl, past the first bloom of youth, who falls in love with and marries an aggressive American huckster, and exchanges her peaceful garden for a New York skyscraper apartment. It is a well written and thoughtful presentation of the 1940's problems, aside from the war.

"The Rage of the Vulture" by Alan Moorehead shows us the human side of recent news headlines. When the British turned India over to self-government, there was much violence and bloodshed. The British residents of a small hill-country state are grumblingly preparing to give up their comfortable lives. The Empire is pulling out and with its alarming reversal of tradition goes also the native servants, the prestige and the luxury of ruling. This curious little group embody most of the less attractive human frailties, as well as some of the virtues, and each shows up clearly in the jockeying for salvage of their possessions. An uprising of hill-men changes their selfish plans considerably.

Another headline approach is found in Pat Frank's "Affairs of State." Presented so convincingly it could be happening right now, the story leaves this reader bemused with its possibilities. A young third secretary, newly attached to the U. S. diplomatic service is sent to Budapest on his first assignment. A chance meeting with a war-time friend—now a member of the Russian secret service, tumbles him into complications and promise of underground action with Russia. It is exciting and plausible as this week's big news story.

MODERN FARMER MUST PRODUCE FOR 8 FAMILIES

The American farmer of 1949 no longer works for mere family subsistence, but has to produce for six to eight other families dependent upon his output.

This is one of the characteristics of the modern farmer as given by Professor H. B. Walker, agricultural engineer on the Davis campus of the University of California. He addressed a group of industrialists on invitation of the Detroit Board of Commerce.

The modern farmer has to meet the demands of consumers who want to spend less time buying, preparing and serving food. The

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

KEEP YOUR CURTAINS CRISP AND FRESH

by the
HOMEMAKING SPECIALISTS of the General Electric Consumers Institute

Clean, crisp curtains bring an air of freshness to any room. There's no reason why every housewife shouldn't achieve this end because nowadays, most curtains are washable and those that aren't can be cleaned. Don't wait until spring housecleaning to launder your curtains; do them several times a year to keep them perfect always.

Here are a few suggestions from the General Electric Consumers Institute to assure good results in washing curtains.

First, if the curtains carry a manufacturer's laundry label, follow the directions given. If not, wash according to the fabric content label.

Before washing, shake the curtains well to remove excess lint and dust particles. Put two or three single curtains in a loosely woven muslin bag or pillow case and close the opening with a quick basting stitch. About four bagfuls of curtains are an adequate washer load.

If the curtains are made of rayon, wash them in warm (100°F) water for three to five minutes. Cotton curtains should be washed in medium (115°F-120°F) water for five to ten minutes. Fiberglass and nylon fabrics usually have manufacturer's laundry instructions; if not, wash as for rayon.

Rinse properly (at least one activated rinse of five minutes); wring or spin; remove curtains from bag; starch if necessary. Curtains may be starched in the washer, either in or out of the bags, using proper proportions of basic starch solution to the amount of water in the tub.

The method of drying is your choice. Curtains may be dried on a stretcher (nail or rod), in your clothes dryer, or outdoors on a line. If you plan to dry them on a line, be sure you pick a good day—clear, mild, gently breezy, not too sunny.

Curtains dried on stretchers in most cases need not be ironed. Those dried on a line or in a dryer should be sprinkled, folded neatly, wrapped in a water-proof container (such as a crib sheet or plastic), and stored in the refrigerator until ready to iron.

The Old Well Spring at Bath, England, has discharged in 150 years enough solids to create an excavation six feet wide, three feet high, and nine miles long, yet its water seems perfectly clear.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

The word "liberal" has many meanings.

When our nation was young, a liberal, politically speaking, was one who believed in a high degree of individual freedom. In the opinion of the old-fashioned liberal, the best governed were the least governed.

With the passing of the years, a liberal, through some process of political legerdemain, has come to mean instead a person who subscribes to just the opposite philosophy of government. Nowadays, a liberal is generally a believer in a strong, powerful federal government—a government that infringes more and more on individual freedoms in the interest of what is conceived to be the public welfare.

Perhaps the dictionary definition that most nearly describes today's political liberal is "openhanded" and "generous." And in politics, it should be remembered, the generosity is always with someone else's money.

The approach of deficit financing by the federal government at a time when the national debt is at a frightening, all-time high, however, has caused a few present-day liberals to express belated concern for profligate government spending. And so we have had the somewhat startling experience lately of hearing an occasional liberal voice calling for economy in government.

The economy call, however, has been accompanied with the assurance that expanded government services are still goals of the liberal cause. In fact, it is all too apparent that this new desire for economy is motivated by fear that an unbalanced federal budget will mitigate against adoption of new spending experiments. For that reason, probably, the new liberal economy slant hasn't been taken too seriously.

The recent speech given at Washington and Lee University by former Senator James F. Byrnes, however, was heralded from coast to coast. Byrnes is one of the foremost liberals of our time. As a senator from South Carolina, he acted as Congressional whip for President Roosevelt through the years when New Deal legislation was routed through Congress like clockwork. And until illness forced his retirement, he was President Truman's Secretary of State.

Liberal Byrnes spoke for the need of economy in government. But the significance of his speech lay in his plea for avoidance of the alternative to economy. That alternative, deplored by Mr. Byrnes, has been endorsed by most liberals. It is the Welfare State.

In Mr. Byrnes' opinion, the Welfare State policies of the present administration threaten to take the nation "down the road to statism."

"Every segment of society is demanding special privileges," the former New Deal senator declared. "Too many people want more pay for less work. Too many people are trying to transfer power to the government."

"Too many powers of state governments are being transferred to the federal government."

"Where we will wind up, no one can tell. But if some of the new programs seriously proposed should be adopted there is danger that the individual, whether farmer, worker, manufacturer, lawyer or doctor, soon will be pulling an economic oar in the galley of the state, with the federal government regimenting our lives from the cradle to the grave."

Advocating that all government spending for purposes other than fixed obligations and national defense be curtailed, Byrnes concluded:

"Our first line of defense is a sound, solvent American economy. The only wise course is to reduce expenditures and live within our income."

The Byrnes plea for economy attracted national attention. It did so because it made sense. As Representative Curtis of Nebraska declared in congratulating Byrnes for his forthright advice: "Economy talk is useless if Congress adds to government tasks the obligation of building homes, paying citizens' medical bills, educating children, enacting disability insurance, or making the social security program more costly."

Perhaps Mr. Byrnes will be expelled from the liberal ranks. His speech, certainly, was anathema to many Fair Deal Democrats. But by the same token, the following remarks made by another great land. They came home just in time to celebrate Sally's tenth birthday with a most unusual party. American liberal are anathema, too:

"I place economy among the first and most important virtues and public debt as the greatest of dangers to be feared. To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty or profusion and servitude. If we run into such debts, we must be taxed in our meat and drink, in our necessities and in our comforts, in our labors and in our amusements. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of our people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy. The same prudence, which in private life would forbid our money for unexplained projects, forbids it in the disposition of public money."

Those were the words of Thomas Jefferson, and they deserve careful thought.
